530,000. The bank had a capital of half a price of mineral, caused by the financial million, and its business extended all over the Northwest.

John T. Murphy was president of the Montana National. It was regarded as strong as the First, but not so old. It had a capital of $500,000, and a statement shows: Assets, $1.750,000; liabilities, $900,000. The directors desire voluntary liquidation. When the banks opened the main streets were crowded with people, the largest number being at the Merchants' National. There was a steady run on this bank for three hours, but it came out all right, the officers saying they gained more cash during the day. There was no run on the other banks.

SUMMARY OF FAILURES.

In Less than Three Months 301 Banks Have Gone to the Wall.

BALTIMORE, July 27 .- A summary of the bank failures in the United States from May 1 to July 22, inclusive, shows that 301 banking institutions, with a capital of $38,951,083, have suspended. The Manufacturers' Record publishes a complete list of the closed banks by States, also a table which shows that five-sixths of these failures and four-fifths of the money involved were in the Western and Pacific States, while only 10 per cent of the failures and 11 per cent. of the capital involved were in the South, In Colorado alone the capital involved was nearly $2,000,000 greater than the aggregate capital of all the banks that failed in the South. The number of failures in the Southern States was thirty-seven, involving $4,392,100; in the Western and Pacific States the number was 251, involving $31,-258,938, and in the Eastern and Northern States thirteen, with $2,600,000 capital.

Cashler Price Arrested.

CINCINNATI, July 27 .- Mr. Overton S. Price, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank, of Hillsborougt, O., whose president, C. M. Overman, was arrested yesterday for embezziement and false entries, was to-day arrested and brought before United States Commissioner John E. Bruce upon the charge of falsifying a report of the condition of the bank in May last. His hearing has been set for Sept. 5, and he was released on bond of $2,000 given by his brother, John M. Price. It is said by his friends that he signed the report in question while absent and sick, and that he did not know the bank's condition. Mr. Overman appeared before Commissioner Bruce and waived examination. His bond was fixed at $10,000 to appear at the October term of court. It was signed by G. H. Burrows, Low Emerson and M. B. Farrin.

Two Portland Banks Fail. PORTLAND, Ore., July 27.-The Oregon National Bank and the Northwest Loan and Trust Company, kindred institutions, failed to open their doors this morning. Notice on doors says: "Owing to withdrawal of deposits, and inability to realize on securities, this bank is forced to suspend." George B. Markle is president of both institutions. Capital stock of the Oregon National, $200,000; surplus, $40,000; average deposits, $500,000. Capital stock of the Northwest Loan and Trust Compapony, $250,000; surplus, $25,000.

Louisville Banks to Resume. LOUISVILLE, July 27 .- All the banks in the city were clearing to-day, and at the clearing house this afternoon there was not the slightest indication of trouble. The storm is believed to be over and smooth sailing is promised for all Louisville institutions. More suspensions are hardly within the range of possibilities, and none is expected. The Louisville City National, the Merchants' National and the Fourth National will probably resume at an early Chicago Clearing-House Action. CHICAGO, July 27 .- The clearing house committee, late this evening, decided to issue clearing-house certificates.

THOUSANDS IDLE.

New England Mills Closing Down and Dullness Spreading.

NEW YORK, July 27 .- A report to the effeet that several important mills in Massachusetts, Maine and Rhode Island were to be shut down was used in these dispatches on Tuesday, and brought out several denials, seemingly authoritative, from mill owners or agents in those States. Cornelius N. Bliss, who furnished the information, said to-day: "I know no reason why these denjais should be made, nor do I see why it should be thought necessary to conceal such facts. I may say now explicitly that the mills I especially referred to are those of the Otis company, with its Palmer mill. Similar action will be taken by the following, of the same connection: The Thorndyke Company, of Thorndyke; the Boston Duck Company, the Bondsville dye works, the Cordes mill and the Warner cotton mills. The Columbian Manufacturing Company's mills, of Greenville, N. H., will also stop. This action will be taken at the end of the week, and it is intended to keep these mills closed for four weeks. They give employment to about five thousand operatives.

Private dispatches received to-day further confirm the report, naming nearly all the mills mentioned by Mr. Bliss and some others besides.

Other Business Troubles. WALTHAM, Mass., July 27 .- Consternation reigns to-night, in consequence of the official announcement given out to-day by Saperintendent Fitch, of the American Waitham Watch Company. On July 1 the company gave its hands a month's vacation. To-day Superintendent Fitch announces that the vacation will be extended a week, the factory starting up on Aug. 7, and at the time of starting up only half the employes will be given work. Coupled with this announcement comes the statement that the Elgin National Watch Company, which is the biggest rival of the Waltham, will discharge half its bands on Aug. 1. The Waltham company at present has on its pay-roll a little less than three thousand employes, and the Elgin company has a little more than that PATERSON, N. J., July 27.-The William Strage Company announced to-night that it will close its extensive silk mills for three weeks. All the hard silk workers in the Adams mill have also been suspended for an indefinite period, and the looms in the soft silk departments in many of the factories are idle. All of the manufacturers say the outlook for the silk trade is anything but encouraging. More than a thousand weavers will be thrown out of work next Monday.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., July 27.-Owing to the extreme duliness in the jewelry trade, due to the lack of orders from large jobbing houses in the West, manufacturers in Plainville, North Attleboro and Attleboro have been compelled to close their shops. This throws six thousand employes out of work and the situation is serious. SPARTA, Wis., July 27 .- Two banks closed their doors here to-day-the M. A. Thayer Bank and the Bank of Sparta. The liabiltues of the M. A. Thayer Bank are placed at about $175,000, and the assets at $225,000, while the liabilities of the Bank of Sparta are said to be $210,000, with assets of $300,000. MOUNT STERLING, Ky., July 27 .- The new Farmers' Bank of this city closed its doors this morning. The failure was caused by an inability to realize on its paper. The deposits are about $300,000. The bank holds first-class paper to the amount of

$1,600,000. The capital stock is $250,000. NEWARK, N. J., July 27. - Clark's O. N. T. Thread Company, employing 1,600 men, is working only two-thirds time, owing to falling off in business. The Mile End and Marshal Linen Thread Companies will go on three-quarters time after next Wednes-

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 27.—The American Tube and Iron Company, at Middletown, has gone into the hands of a receiver. The concern has a plant at Youngstown, O., 1.500 hands being employed at Middletown and 500 at Youngstown.

OSWEGO, N. Y., July 27.—The Champion Wagon Company, of Oswego, the chief industry of this city, has ordered a reduction of 20 per cent. in wages, and may shut down indefinitely any day.

WILMINGTON, Del., July 27.—A receiver has been appointed for the Wilmington Dental Manufacturing Company, of this city. Liabilities, $200,000; assets, $615,000. CINCINNATI, July 27.-The real estate firm of Robert Leslie & Co. assigned this afternoon to J. T. Harrison. Assets estimated at $120,000; Irabilities, $63,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 27 .- On account of an increase in the price of coal, caused by the miners' strike, and a decrease in the stringency, nine of the largest lead mines at Aurora closed down this morning to await developments.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., July 27.—The First National Bank of this place closed its doors this morning. The First National had a capital of $50,000. MOUNT STERLING, Ky., July 27.-The firm of Gillespie & Smith, stock dealers, have assigned. Liabilities are from $25,000 to $40,000. PHILADELPHIA, July 27 .- S. H. Morrison an extensive lumber merchant, to-day suspended. Liabilities, $160,000. ELGIN, Ill., July 27.-The great Elgin watch works have reduced their force one-half, cutting off 1,500 men. EXETER, N. H., July 27.-The National Grain and State Bank here suspended payment to-day.

GREAT FREE-FOR-ALL TROT

Little Albert and Walter E. Show the Fastest Heels This Season in a Race.

Five Sensational Heats at Cleveland, Which Albert Finally Wins-Dillard, Director's Flower and Ellard Also Win.

CLEVELAND RACES. Fastest Five Heats Ever Trotted in a Race with Average Time of 2:11 1-10. CLEVELAND, July 27 .- The greatest trotting race in the history of the turf world came off this afternoon at the famous Glenville course in this city. It was the freefor-all, with such noted borses as Ryland T., Little Albert, Muta Wilkes, Magnolia, Alvin, Waiter E., Greenleaf and others entered. The time made in the race once more restores to the track in this city the laurels that were temporarily wrested from it by other associations. There were five heats trotted in the free-for-all. The average time of the heats was 2:11 1/10, which eclipses all records for five heats, The race was not won by a favorite. In the betting before the race Ryland T. and Hamlin's Nightingale were selected as the horses that ought to go fast enough to win. Little Albert was considered good for a heat, but not much more than that. To the surprise of the racing men he reeled off the first mile in 2:10, and followed that up with a mile in 2:11. Then he made a break on the home stretch that cost him his chance to win the race in three straight heats. Walter E. was so close on his heels that the slightest skip was sure to forfeit the heat, and he at once took advantage of the gelding's slip. The fourth heat was won by Walter E., because he sho wed himself a better horse. In the fifth heat Walter E. was in as good position to win as Little Albert, but he lost his stride just before he reached the wire. and with it the race. The 2:18 trotting race developed some more unexpected speed. The first heat was trotted at a mark far below any generally made, and was won by the horse that was not even considered dangerous. Ellard had been a steady favorite from the time the first pool was sold. While Lee's Pilot did not have quite speed enough to win, he gave Ellard a hard chase, and the bay stallion had to go at his best in every heat of the race. A favorite was thrown in the race for two-year-olds when Director's Flower defeated Chris Lang with ease. The latter was thought to be a sure winner on the form that he had shown in the circuit races this season, but Director's Flower trotted the fastest twoyear-old race of the year and got the money. The 2:14 pacing race, continued from the day before, was won by Hal Dillard. Paul was the favorite, and after the race the judges declared all pools on the race off, as they believed there had been dishonesty in the race. Paul was supposed to be at fault, and it is said that steps will be taken to punish the offenders. Directum trotted a inile to beat the record of Mand S., to an old-fashioned sulky. He went in 2:14. Taral Made a Fine Ride. MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., July 27 .- Pleasant weather and a good programme were offered here to-day. In the event of the day, the Optional stake for two-year-olds, Busirins set a hot pace to the last furlong. Taral then drew out with Anrelian, a 10 to 1 shot, and, hard pressed by Terrapin, managed to win by a head. Raceland was made an odds on favorite for the first race. He won, but the victory was largely due to the energetic riding of Taral. Kesults: First Race-One mile. Raceland won: Julien second, The Ironmaster third. Time.

Second Race-Five furlongs. My Lady won; Anawanda second, Mic-Mac Queen third. Time, 1:02. Third Race-Seven furlongs, Red Ban-

MARION, Ky., July 27 .- A terrible accident occurred yesterday at Salem, Kv., twelve miles from here, in which a boiler exploded and killed John and George Dambron, and tore off the arm of William Dambron. Mr. J. A. Davidson had just bought the engine and boiler to run a threshing machine, and it was new and untried.

When steam was put in it exploded with

Commissioner Roosevelt Speaks as if It Looked Very Much that Way.

Mr. Whitney Has a Word on Cleveland's Silver Policy-A Mistake About Joshua Jump -Fine Record of Maxwell's Ax Testerday.

NO GOOD CAN COME OF IT.

Mr. Roosevelt Has No Sympathy with Civil-Service Law Violations.

WASHINGTON, July 27. - Civil-service Commissioner Roosevelt, discussing today the current changes in departments and the general comments which those changes had elicited from both political parties, said: "Well, I am not in sympathy with the outery for wholesale dismissals of the clerical force of the departments in order to 'even them up' between the two parties. The published statement that 90 per cent. or any such proportion of the clerical force in the departments in Washington is Republican is all nonsense. There are in the departmental forces about 8,600 persons, all told, who are subject to competitive examination. Of these about four thousand now in office have been put in through the examinations of the Civil-service Commission, wholly without regard to political consideration, and are probably about evenly divided between the two parties. The remaining 4,600 represent those still in office from among the 6,000 who were originally classified in 1878 by order of President Arthur, and are mainly Republicans. They also represent the 2,000 men who are included in the classification of 1888 by order of President Cleveland, the great bulk of whom are Demo-crats. Probably about the same proportion of these two classes are now in office. or, in other words, of the 4,000 persons now in the departmental service, about threefourths are Republicans and one-quarter Democrats. In addition to this, there are about 1,400 excepted places, such as chiefs of divisions, private secretaries and the like, and 2,000 laborers and others below the classified service, making 3,400 in all, the great majority of whom are changed with each administration. It is fair to assume that nearly all of these places are, or will soon be, filled by Democrats. It is probably a fact that in the entire departmental service here in Washington the parties are now substantially baianced. i., the railway mail service there are about 7,000 piaces. Here, also, parties are on a practical equality. About 80 per cent. of Republicans were discharged between 1885 and 1889 and Democrats put in their places. "On the change of administration in 1889, and prior to the time the civil-service law went into effect, nearly one-half of these Democrats were turned out and replaced by Republicans, dividing the force about equally between the two parties." Mr. Roosevelt said he protested as strongly as he could against the dismissal of this large number of Democratic postal clerks at the time, although the reason given was that they were displaced in order to reinstate experienced Republican clerks who themselves had been dismissed by the previous administration. "Nothing but harm," he said, "can ever come from turning out one-half the people in office on the theory of equalizing the representation of the parties. The only honest way to act is when an office is classified to treat it as entirely removed from politics. The working of the civil-service law itself, if honestly enforced, will speedily bring about a state of things where the Democrats and Republicans altke will be treated wholly without regard to their politics."

W. C. WHITNEY'S VIEWS.

Unhesitatingly Supports the President's

Policy for the Extra Session. NEW YORK, July 27 .- Ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney has been interviewed on the financial situation and what Congress should do to alleviate the stress. He says: "It is scarcely necessary for me to say that I heartily indorse Mr. Cleveland's policy of urging the repeal of the Sherman law as a preliminary to tariff reform. If the country is not being drowned in a silver flood, it is at any rate being scared to death by the fear of such a deluge. The first thing to be done is to shut off whatever flood there is, be it big or little, and stop the scare. There can be no doubt that the absolute and unqualified repeal of the Sherman law would do this. Even Mr. Harrison implicitly admits this, But I do not wish to be regarded as considering the repeal of the Sherman law a permanent cure for our national ills. The silver scare will not be long over before some other scare will begin, unless we go to the bottom of the trouble and get the business and industry of the country off the artificial basis upon which it is being conducted and upon solid ground again. The country's prosperity will never be permanently established while an annual tax of three or four hundred millions is laid upon its industries. No matter what disguise it may assume, our present tariff system is essentially a tax on the producing and industrial classes. The tariff is assessed not on what men own, but on what they eat, and drink, and wear. It is too largely a per capita tax. Under it, it is easily possible that a poor man with a large family may be compelled to pay more taxes for the support of the national government than an economical millionaire with only himself to keep. National taxes being levied as they are, the general mass of the people, the producing and industrial classes and the great body of merchants, tradeemen and professional men, pay fifteen times as much tax in proportion to their means as the rich man. There lies the secret of national distress.

"The only permanent remedy is in a readjustment of this great burden of taxation and equalizing its pressure upon all alike. Other countries do this. There is no reason why the United States cannot. To such a reform the Democratic party is pledged. Four years before the Republican party had promised to revise the tariff, and in the faith that the revision would be in the line of a reduction or an equalization of the tax burdens, the people elected Mr. Harrison. The Republicans fulfilled their promise by passing the Mckinley bill, increasing the tariff and perpetuating its megnalities. The next election practicully wiped the Republican party as then constituted out of existence. "The McKinley bill mistake of the Republicans would be a mere quibble compared with the monumental folly of which the Democratic party would be guilty should it ignore the issue upon which it elected Mr. Cleveland, If Mr. Harrison were as frank as he is shrewd, he would not lay foundations for a fresh destruction of public confidence by predicting fresh disaster from an attempt to bridge over suddenly the wide chasm intervening between comparative free trade and a protective system. Neither be, nor any other leading Republican, really believes that Mr. Cleveland is an Anarchist, and the members of the Democratic party in a vast conspiracy against the prosperity of the whole people. Democrats included.

NOT JUMP AFTER ALL,

The Journal's Correspondent Mixed on the Collectorship Question. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, July 27 .- There is a case of mistaken identity in the Washington dispatch printed this morning, in regard to a change in one of the Indiana revenue collectorships, Mr. Cravens is the occupant of the office in the Sixth district, which is Major Joe won; Jack Richelien second, La | the Indianapolis district. Mr. Throop is the collector in this, the Seventh district. Mr. Cravens's four years will expire in August, but Mr. Throop will not have served four years until October. Ex-Judge Jump, who is Senator Voorhees's candidate for the collectorship in this district, said he had been expecting the change in the other district, but he does not expect a chance here for some time yet. The Journal correspondent was told by one gentleman. who talked with the President in regard to the appointment, that Mr. Cleveland said he would make the appointment in September. And, in this connection, it is well to bear in mind the fact that the term of | waist in summer.

VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION. Programme for Mitchell's Bank at Martinsville-Confidence Not Hurt,

Special to the Indianapo'is Journal. MARTINSVILLE, Ind., July 27 .- Notwithstanding the fact that H. Satterwhite, president of the First National Bank here, was a stockholder in the Indianapolis National Bank, which closed its doors on Tuesday, the bank here is in no wise affected. This was a private deal of Mr. Satterwhite's, and not on the part of the bank here. Neither of the banks here has experienced the least uneasiness during the flurry, and the officials have so hedged in time that nothing could prevent their paying depositors if they should demand their money at once. Both the First National and Mitchell's private bank have been doing a prosperous business and have level-headed men at their helms. Mitchell's Bank will go into voluntary liquidation Oct. 1. After settling up its business it will be succeeded by a stock company bank, composed mostly of his heirs. The new bank expects to begin business Jan. 1. The present bank is in prime condition, and has experienced no stringency.

People here have not felt the penic at all, and it is greatly due to the mineral wells, as there are five hundred health and pleasure seekers in attendance. They are spending their thousands of dollars in the city each week, while cities relying upon manufactures are virtually dead. The businesslike air and general stir is remarked by all visitors. Almost every State in the Union is represented each day, as a glance at sanitarium registers will show. More building of a substantial nature is being done than at any time in the city's history.

CLEVELAND, July 27 .- Baron Eberhardt von Weiderhold, reporter on the German newspaper Waechter am Erie, died at 2 o'clock this morning from an overdose of morphine. Baron Eberhardt von Wiederhold was born in Wurtemburg, Germany, and came to this country about twelve years ago. His father was a baron and was at one time Minister of War of the Kingdem of Wurtemburg. At the death of the Baron, Wiederhold'solder brother inherited the fortune and title, which induced the younger man to emigrate to America. Deceased was thirty-six years of age, and leaves a wife end four children living in this city.

ANARCHISTS AT BROOKLYN

It Is Brooklyn, Ind., However, and They Blow George Moss's Saloon Sky High.

The Militia Boys Didn't Exactly Cover Themselves with Glory the Last Night of Their Stay in Terre Haute.

BLOWN TO SLIVERS.

Another Saloon in Brooklyn Torn to Pieces with a Stick of Dynamite.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BROOKLYN, Ind., July 27.—George B. Moss has been running a saloon in this place for some time past, and this did not suit the better class of citizens. Last night some one placed a stick of dynamite under the saloon, and it was shifted into the immensity of space.

This is the second saloon that has been blown up here. One saloonkeeper was given forty lashes, and several others given notice to quit or suffer the penalty. It is a fact that a saloon cannot long run here, There is a condition in all the original deeds that in case liquors are ever sold on said premises the land falls back to the This condition was tested about a year ago, in the courts at Martinsville, by Parker and Orr, and held good.

MURDER AT MARTZ.

Two Men Quarrel Over a Woman and One Is Killed by the Other.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CLAY CITY, Ind., July 27 .- Another murder, the fourth that has occurred in this Vicinity within the last three years, was committed at Martz, a small village one mile south of this place, last night. Summitt, Henry county, J. W. Dunbar, | Thomas Kress and Charles Cooprider had both been paying their attentions to one Nancy Luther, and trouble over the affair has been brewing for several months. Last evening, at 7 o'clock, they met on the walk in front of James Lankford's store, and, getting into an altereation. Cooprider proceeded to fill his antagonist with lead from a revolver. Three balls struck him in the chest and one in the abdomen, causing his death. After committing the deed Cooprider ran home, buckled on a belt of cartridges, and, taking his shotgun, fled. Officers are in pursuit. Kress had a wife and three children. Cooprider is unmarried.

THE MILITIA ENCAMPMENT.

It Came to a Close Yesterday-Complaints of Bad Conduct of Some of the Men. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 27:-The encampment of the Indiana militia came to an end this afternoon, after seven days' varied experience. The attendance was larger than at any previous encampment, and the officers pronounce it a success. Many outsiders have a different opinion, and are wondering what other encampments have been if this is the best. The criticism, of course, does not apply to all of the 2,100 citizen soldiery who lived in the tented city at Forest Park, but the unpunished ruffians who disgraced the uniform they wore, both in camp and in the city, have given the whole camp a bad name. It is said by those who know that other cities which have, in former years, paid $1,000 or $2,000 to get the camp have been sick of their bargain two days after the soldiers came, and this is true of Terre Haute. While it is no doubt true that the "boye," as a rule, were benefited from a military point of view by their experience in camp, it is also true that a number of them learned more that was vicious than anything else. The complaint of citizens is on the score of gross insults offered to ladies who visited the camp. In a number of instances the rowdies in blue caught hold of ladies with such remarks as "come with me, baby." The local papers also say that officers who were made acquainted with these facts took no steps to stop the insults or punish the offenders. It is also published that many men were on the streets in a drunken and noisy condition, and others were ejected from houses of ill fame because of their riotous conduct, an arrest by the police being made in one instance. They are also accused of getting drinks in saloons and refusing to pay for them. Altogether, the people of Terre Haute have reached the conclusion that the State is paying $30,000 a year for an onting which in a large part partakes of the nature of a jamboree. The Second Regiment comes in for most of the censure in the local papers. There was an exciting event at the depot to-night when an Evansville company was waiting to take a train. One of the soldiers was drunk, and, with a drunken woman, was making a great deal of noise. A policeman warned them to be quiet, but was finally compelled to undertake an arrest, and had to use his club. The hentenant of the company and other soldiers were about to interfere, when the patrol wagon arrived and took the drunken soldier and woman to jail.

The Indiana Chautauqua, Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

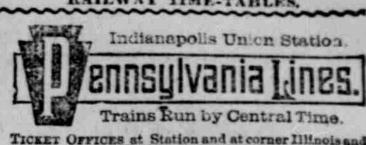

EAGLE LAKE, Ind., July 27 .- The fourth annual session of the Indiana State Chantauqua Assembly has opened with the brightest of prospects. Rev. A. E. Malin, of Fort Wayne, gave the first lecture of the session this afternoon. "The Spirit of Methodism" was his subject, and he was listened to with great interest by a fine audience. Rev. Malin said that the first gun fired at Sumter was fired by a Methodist, Like England, the Methodist Church boasts that the sun never sets on her possessions. The followers of Wesley were called Methodists because of their attention to methods. Methodism is an organ:zation of progress, but a Methodist without religion is like salt that has lost its savor. "All at it and always at it," is one of the mottoes of the Methodist Church. He dwelt for some time on the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church towards the public school system, and the opposition they are receiving from the Methodists. At 3:30 P. M. Miss Mary Strickland gave a most delightful and interesting talk to the ladies. She told of the life of Deisarte, his teaching and its result. In the evening Russel Conwell gave his lecture "Heroism of a Private Life."
